Over the years, MLG has continued to evolve, offering its collectors an opportunity to add an eclectic blend of Impressionist, Modern, Post-War and Contemporary art to their holdings. Collectors are encouraged to embrace the cross-category collecting approach, and the lots this year have been curated with this in mind.

MLG has published fine art by Andy Warhol, Keith Haring, Robert Deyber, Erté, and more and has worked directly with the Chagall and Frances estates to acquire significant collections of original and unique works. These are, in turn, presented to their seasoned collectors and first-time buyers alike. MLG prides itself on the pristine condition of each work of art it offers and guarantees the authenticity of every piece.

MLG has proudly loaned masterpieces to museums and public institutions around the globe, most recently including three Haring works to exhibits at the Tate Liverpool and the Palais des Beaux-Arts (Bozar) in Brussels and the Museum Folkwang. Additionally, 11 MLG works are currently featured in the Dalí and Magritte exhibition at the Royal Museum of Fine Arts of Belgium, and two Basquiat's are on display at the Mori Arts Center in Tokyo.

MLG's Spring Auction is a tremendous opportunity to begin or add to a collection, all at extraordinary values. This includes Iconic Harings, signature Warhol's, sensual Picassos, romantic Chagall's, and bronze sculptures by the elegant and legendary Erté; otherworldly landscapes from Kerry Hallam, contemporary works by the visual raconteur Robert Deyber, complex Takashi Murakami, the dreamy aesthetic of Mark Kostabi and so much more.
