An audiobook service from Amazon, Audible offers the world's largest selection of classics, new releases as well as original podcasts. With their Audible membership, listeners can download or stream their chosen titles. Users can choose from a range of membership plans and listen to all the Audible Original Podcasts with unlimited streaming. Listeners can access Audible directly from its website or via its app on almost any device, including iPhones, other smartphones and tablets.

Amazon Music is one of the largest on-demand streaming music services with around 55 million customers and constantly growing. Publishing any show on Amazon Music makes it available on Alexa-enabled devices, opening it up to a massive audience. Amazon Music is available in the United States, United Kingdom, Germany, Brazil, Mexico and Japan.

"We are excited to be a part of Audible and have no doubt that this will increase our exposure by drawing a new audience that may not have connected with us in the past," said Norman Farrar, the host and the creator of Lunch With Norm.

Popularly known as "The Beard Guy," Norman Farrar is a leading Amazon Marketplace expert with close to three decades of experience in product sourcing, development, and branding. He is also a nationally recognized thought leader and speaker and has generated monthly sales of over $1 million for various products and brands. Farrar is also the creator of numerous webinars and courses, many of which are currently available on Amazing.com.

Farrar has recently turned to podcasting to help others succeed in today's competitive online business space. His podcasts turn complex ideas into easy-to-understand tactics to assist experienced as well new sellers.

To find out more about "Lunch With Norm," please visit the podcast's official website, Facebook page, or now through Audible or Amazon Music.
