For a Navy Submarine Veteran asbestos exposure might have happened on a regular basis-- depending on their duty station. Financial compensation for a Navy Veteran like this might exceed a million dollars as Erik Karst is always happy to discuss.

"The key for a mesothelioma compensation claim-for a Navy Veteran will be based on their ability to recall as many specifics as possible about how, where and when they were exposed to asbestos. Extreme exposure to asbestos may have occurred for a Navy Submarine Veteran while their boat was on patrol, for repair work that was done pre-deployment or post deployment, and or while the Veteran was assigned to stay on their boat at a shipyard for repairs.
