

Rapidity DX Fully Prepared for New COVID-19 Testing Regulations for Travelers

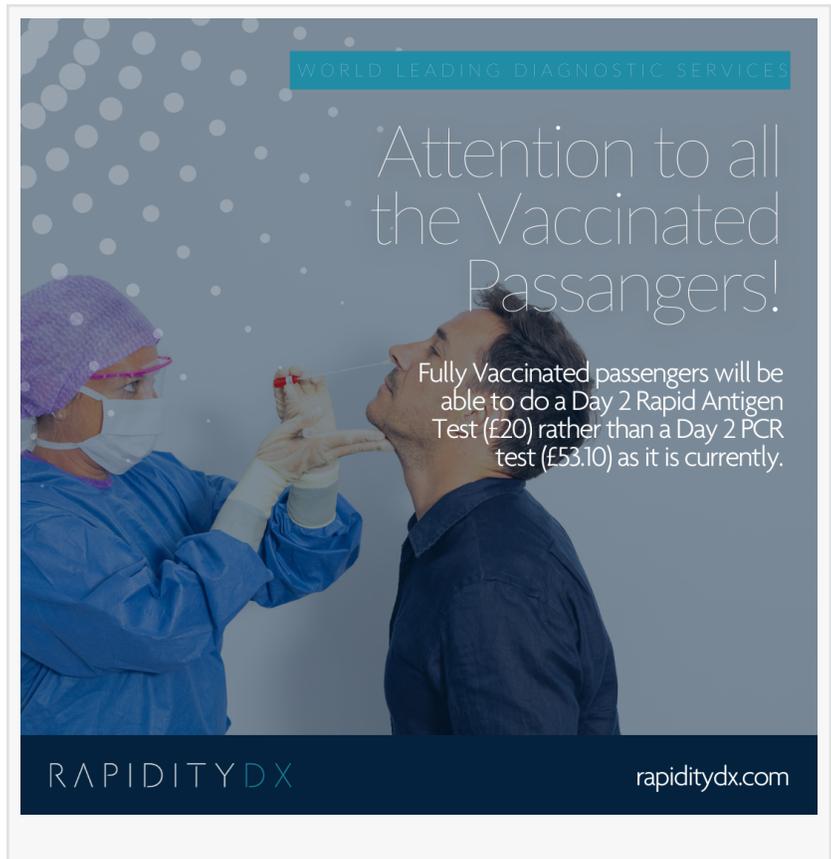

The company is offering an affordable Rapid Antigen Test – a new option for fully vaccinated travelers who used to require a Day 2 PCR test.

MANCHESTER, UNITED KINGDOM, October 22, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Rapidity DX is announcing that, as of October 24th, it is prepared to support fully vaccinated travelers who now require a Day 2 Rapid Antigen Test, as opposed to a Day 2 PCR Test.

Rapidity DX, a subsidiary of Protein Technologies Ltd, is an SME with its core business coming through contract research organisation services. The company performs work as a Research Technology Organization and is heavily involved in R&D, specialising in molecular biology, protein chemistry, and assay development for the use in diagnostics and biotechnology. Currently, the lab at Rapidity DX is focusing on providing businesses and other organizations with access to expert COVID-19 testing services and an experienced team of specialists.

Recently, COVID-19 travel regulations have changed, with fully vaccinated arrivals no longer requiring a Day 2 PCR Test as of October 24th. Instead, travelers can now choose to do a Rapid Antigen Test – a much more affordable and quicker option. To address this recent change, Rapidity DX is reminding the public of its COVID-19 Rapid Antigen Test service. The test is performed using a portable lateral flow device at a cost of merely £20.

“Our COVID-19 test is a self-performed at home on day zero, one, or two on arrival to the UK,” says a spokesperson for the company. “The passenger simply needs to upload a picture of the completed test, alongside their passport, for a member of our clinical team to verify the result.

WORLD LEADING DIAGNOSTIC SERVICES

Attention to all the Vaccinated Passengers!

Fully Vaccinated passengers will be able to do a Day 2 Rapid Antigen Test (£20) rather than a Day 2 PCR test (£53.10) as it is currently.
