The Advocate says, "Most Navy Submarine Veterans who have been diagnosed with mesothelioma were home based in California, Connecticut, Virginia, Washington, Hawaii, or Georgia. Most of them would have served before 1982. While their duties on a submarine might have been varied, they would have come into contact with-asbestos making repairs on the boat, maintaining equipment such as pumps or valves, and or torpedoes or ammunition. Navy Submarine Veterans might have also had significant exposure to asbestos at a shipyard where their boat was undergoing repairs.

"If the person we have just described sounds like you, your husband or dad and the mesothelioma diagnosis has just occurred please call attorney Erik Karst of the law firm of Karst von Oiste anytime at 800-714-0303. Erik will be able to get specific with you about your potential compensation as soon as he understands the specifics of the Navy Veterans asbestos exposure."
