

The Celestina Code, A Life-Changing Adventure Book For Children Is Set For A Grand Launch

Nora announces the launch of her Kickstarter campaign to help children believe in themselves and thrive in life despite the adversity they have experienced.

SWITZERLAND, February 28, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Nora Tollenaar-Szanto announces the launch of her Kickstarter campaign, aiming to achieve her funding goal of USD 10,000 with the objective to help children believe in themselves and thrive in life despite the adversity they have experienced.

The Celestina Code Book Cover

According to the WHO, one in seven teenagers suffers from mental health issues that prevent them from becoming happy and fulfilled adults. Since the outbreak of the pandemic the problem has further increased. If the world has ever needed a book that has a life-changing positive impact on young teens while they are reading a gripping story, it is now.

The book is the unexpected outcome of my Psychology Master's degree, where I researched what makes extremely successful business leaders different from the average population.”

Nora Tollenaar-Szanto

The Celestina Code is an adventure fiction book for children aged 10-14 but with a twist. Written by a psychologist, it aims to inspire readers to believe that their dreams are attainable by empowering them with essential high-performing traits to rise from adversity, overcome obstacles, step into their truth and reach their goals with integrity.

The Celestina Code has been designed to help young readers to:

□ Increase self-confidence

- Develop a growth mindset
- Enhance emotional intelligence
- Develop positive character traits
- Learn how to deal with anxiety and limiting beliefs

The social-emotional learning story narrates the adventures of protagonist Abby Parker, who is on a mission to save her school. When Abby hears about the quest, run by a peculiar billionaire, she immediately understands that this could be their last chance. But the headmistress of the most stuck-up rival school in town is also forming a team and it's not long before they are head-to-head, teleporting around a parallel universe hunting for clues and decrypting codes. But the quest isn't the only puzzle. Could the girl on the opposite team, who looks exactly like her, in fact, be her identical twin? And is the man trying to sabotage her be her father? Throw in an evil scientist and two whole worlds in danger of imploding, the stakes are higher than ever.

In the story, the two competing teams receive important life lessons from real-life heroes who defied the odds and achieved something extraordinary in their lives. These individuals include:

- Marcel Hug: 6-time Paralympic Champion from Switzerland
- Karishma Sharma: Indian Actress
- Miguel McKelvey: American businessman, co-founder of WeWork
- Yolanda Brown: British saxophone player
- Beliks Zemdegis: 2-time Rubik's Cube World Champion from Australia
- Ezedin Kamil, Ethiopian inventor
- Nadine Kessler, Ballon D'Or winner football player from Germany
