The BeVeg Vegan standard assures consumers while enabling brands to independently validate product claims. Businesses can also bundle the BeVeg certification with other NSF certifications, such as non-GMO, organic, gluten-free and kosher, among others. The BeVeg Vegan certification involves a four-step process inclusive of facility audits.

“

NSF is excited to partner with BeVeg International to certify products to the BeVeg Vegan standard — one that is recognized globally for providing trust and transparency to consumers.”

Sara Risley, Director of Product Certification, at NSF International.
