Global aerosol disinfectant market is projected to be driven by prevalence of healthcare associated infections (HAIs) along with unprecedented outbreak of Covid-19 virus. Aerosol disinfectant being one of the fast acting and convenient way of disinfecting surfaces, these products have high demand in residential and commercial spaces. In the midst of Covid-19 pandemic, the practice of cleaning and sanitation has been improved in terms of frequency and quality, which subsequently has increased the product demand. Aerosol disinfectants are hermitically sealed; therefore, the chances of leakage are negligible, also they are resource efficient as the containers are recyclable. Moreover, the aerosol disinfectant dispensers control the ratio of spraying chemical concentration and volume dispensed, which makes the product cost effective and extends its shelf life. Ease of application without contacting along with growing need of decontaminating surfaces are some of the major driving factors for the market growth.
