Attain Online Japanese Language School Fall
Semester Enrollment

In April 2022, many students from all over the world enrolled to the first semester of AOJ Language School to study Japanese. Although our first students are studying only i-class (for N5 level), in response to the needs from prospective students around the world for classes at various levels, it has been decided that more levels of Japanese classes are opening to the public in fall semester. In fall semester, i-class (for beginners and N5 level), ro-class (for N4 level) and ha-class (for N3 level) will be available.

Since the opening of the school, AOJ Language School has received enrollment inquiries from more than 200 people from all over the world, indicating the high level of need for Japanese language study. At the same time, because classes can be taken from anywhere in the world, the school found it was important to set more live class schedules to the time zones of each region of the world and establish a system that would allow students to participate in classes on a continuous basis. Therefore, starting from the fall semester, the school will offer classes on every Wednesdays and Saturdays Japan time. The class time is 2:00 a.m., 9:00 a.m., 11:00 a.m., 6:30 p.m., and 8:30 p.m. (Japan time). The 2:00 a.m. Japan time slot is especially convenient for Japanese language learners living in most European countries, as it is in the evening in most European countries. If the minimum number of students is reached, the school may open a class from 4:00 a.m.

The class levels are i-class for beginner level and N5 level, ro-class for N4 level, and ha-class for N3 level. They also have extensive JLPT (Japanese Language Proficiency Test) preparation materials for those who wish to pass the test.

Questions about classes and enrollment are welcome at any time, and the school encourage to attend the school information session on August 10.
