As per The Business Research
Company's "[Community Food,
Housing, And Relief Services Global](#)

Market Report 2022", the community food, housing, and relief services market size is expected to grow from $452.69 billion in 2021 to $496.24 billion in 2022 at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 9.6%. The community food, housing, and relief services industry growth is mainly due to the companies rearranging their operations and recovering from the COVID-19 impact, which had earlier led to restrictive containment measures involving social distancing, remote working, and the closure of commercial activities that resulted in operational challenges. The community food, housing, and relief services market is expected to reach $687.45 billion in 2026 at a CAGR of 8.5%. Federal funding for social services is a major driver for the community food, housing, and relief services market.

Key Trends In The Community Food, Housing, And Relief Services Market

Re-entry services are increasingly being provided for the people exiting prison, which is one of the key factors shaping the community food, housing, and relief services market outlook. The majority of this population face homelessness after their release and have nowhere to go. Therefore, many NGOs have come forward to help them provide shelter. For instance, the US-based Lionheart Foundation provides shelter to this population and its Houses of Healing(HOH) program helps improve prisoner's lifestyle by providing them with services like transformative programs for prisoners, HOH guide book, HOH video series and many more.

Overview Of The Community Food, Housing, And Relief Services Market

The community food, housing, and relief services market consists of the revenues from community food, housing, and relief services and related goods by entities (organizations, sole traders, and partnerships) that prepare, and deliver food for the needy; provide short-term emergency shelter, temporary residential shelter, transitional housing, volunteer construction or repair of low-cost housing, and/or repair of homes for individuals or families in need; or provide food, shelter, clothing, medical relief, resettlement, and counselling to victims of domestic or international disasters or conflicts (example: wars). Only goods and services traded between entities or sold to end consumers are included.
