Gallery Nights at the Coral Gables Museum

South-florida band, Pump Action

In the courtyard, South-Florida based band Pump Action will be playing their rock and R&B influenced jams starting at 7 PM.

“We’re excited to welcome new talent to our courtyard! They met and formed the band right here in UM’s Frost School of Music, so it just makes sense for them to perform here for our community.” says Public Relations and Community Outreach Officer Pamela Londono.

The weather will be warm that night, but our neighbors from La Glace Miami will help the crowd cool down by serving their delicious ice cream on-site. This local ice cream shop located on Giralda Plaza will surely be a sweet treat for visitors.

Florida Guitar Foundation's Open Mic

Inside the museum, visitors can enjoy exhibitions, free of charge, featuring local and international artists: Painting in Excess; Kyiv’s Art Revival, 1985-1993; and Capture DOWNTOWN Coral Gables. This will be the last Gallery Night in which the historical show, Creating the Dream will be on view before the Permanent Collection Gallery closes for renovation at the end of the month.

Beginning at 7 PM, Florida Guitar Foundation will be hosting its monthly open mic night in the Community Meeting Room. All classical guitar or similar fingerstyle players are invited to bring their instruments and get on stage. These sessions provide a supportive, low-pressure environment in which musicians can hone their performance skills or show off a new piece they’ve been working on.

Recent publications, posters, tote bags, apparel items, and souvenirs from the Museum’s gift shop will be available for sale at the reception desk. They are also available through the Museum’s online gift shop.
