

Wencor announces an exclusive, multi-year defense contract with AMETEK FMH Aerospace Corp.

PEACHTREE CITY, GA, USA, February 14, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- AMETEK FMH has selected Wencor as its exclusive distributor supporting global military and government aftermarket. This agreement expands the partnership that Wencor and AMETEK SFMS previously announced in September 2022, and now includes the AMETEK flexible metal tubing, ducting, bellows, valves, filter assemblies, and fuel boost pumps supporting key military platforms in the aerospace and defense market segments.

"We are excited to partner with AMETEK and their market-leading offerings. Their diverse product portfolio and technical engineering capabilities, combined with our technical defense portfolio and value-added services will expand our opportunities into the defense market sector. Wencor prides itself in the ability to provide innovative solutions that enable reliability, material availability and cost efficiencies for our customers and this partnership will enhance these deliverables," said Wencor President of Defense, Scott Herndon.

Dan Ketchum, Vice President and Business Unit Manager of AMETEK FMH Aerospace / Pacific Design, noted, "This partnership allows us to effectively service the military aftermarket while expanding AMETEK's focus on highly engineered technology solutions."
