

Xvoucher Announces a New Subsidiary in India

Xvoucher continues to make investments into expanding its global footprint and tax processing centers to better serve our customers.

MUMBAI, INDIA, October 4, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Xvoucher today announced the launch of a new subsidiary in India. This comes as the financial services company continues to make investments into expanding its global footprint and tax processing centers to better serve its customers.

By continuing to expand into new regions, we are able to better support our Clients and customers, creating a more seamless experience for all."

Kevin Brice

The news means that Xvoucher customers located or doing business in India will be able to pay in INR, the local currency, avoiding the cost of currency conversions to USD.

"Xvoucher has more than 20 years of experience building and delivering targeted solutions for some of the largest learning and certification programs. By continuing to expand into new regions, we are able to better support our clients and customers, creating a more seamless experience for all," Kevin Brice, CEO of Xvoucher.

The Xvoucher team will work hand-in-hand with its customers located or doing business in India to transition billing and invoicing into the region. This strategic expansion aligns with Xvoucher's ongoing dedication to ensure its clients and customers receive the highest level of service and convenience, reinforcing its global commitment to excellence.
