Tamils did not have a flag during the nearly four and a half centuries of colonial rule. It was the Tamil National Leader Hon. Velupillai Prabhakaran who recognized the importance of the flag for the Tamil Nation in 1989, introduced and hoisted it on the 21st of November 1990.

The parliament of the Transnational Government of Tamil Eelam (TGTE) on October 4th resolved and declared November 21st as the Tamil Eelam National Flag Day.

In the TGTE National Flag Day proclamation it is stated inter alia that "[T]his flag which represents all the people belonging to the Nation of Tamil of Tamil Eelam across the globe stands for the sovereignty, and the right to self-determination of the Tamil Eelam Nation. It is a reminder of the immeasurable supreme sacrifice made by the Eelam Tamil Nation fighting for its retrieval and emancipation from foreign rule and Sinhala Buddhist hegemony. "

The proclamation concludes "On this , the Tamil Eelam National Flag Day, we solemnly swear by the flag we proudly hold, and loudly proclaim for the whole world to hear that, on the basis of the right to self-determination, reversion to sovereignty and remedial justice the Tamil Eelam People based on human ethics we would courageously with indomitable spirit to establish our rightful Independent state of Tamil Eelam and a free society where social justice prevails , overcoming all and any obstacles that may come to our way".

National Flag Day events have been organized in Canada, France, U. K and U.S.A. The agenda
