

flyExclusive Partners with Bluetail to Level Up Company's Digital Aircraft Records Ecosystem

The company now has a single, 24/7-accessible hub for maintenance records and logbooks

SCOTTSDALE, ARIZONA, UNITED STATES, April 11, 2024

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Bluetail, the leading modern aircraft records platform, announced today that it has officially onboarded flyExclusive (NYSEAMERICAN: FLYX, "flyExclusive" or the "Company"), a premier owner/operator of private jet experiences with one of the largest fleets in the United States.

flyExclusive's fleet of approximately 100 aircraft are part of the major operator's continued commitment to growth. And, the new options from Bluetail nicely complement flyExclusive's operations that provide a safe, curated, and customized luxury aircraft experience that they believe customers can't get anywhere else.

"We've always put a premium on safety and efficiency. And as a company that was built by aviation experts for the aviation industry, Bluetail was a perfect partner for us," said Steve Pawlak, director of maintenance at flyExclusive. "We know that going digital adds a new level of efficiency, and have known that digital is the future for a while now. We're excited to level-up our maintenance record digitization by partnering with Bluetail — to ensure our records are not only digital, but secure, searchable, and shareable."

Although flyExclusive has used digital aircraft records solutions, previous options weren't built Bluetail is the leading modern aircraft records platform, enabling aircraft owners, operators, and flight departments to move away from paper-based records and digitize, organize, search, and share all aircraft records (back-to-birth) — from anywhere, on any device.

flyExclusive is a leading Part 135 owner and operator of private jet experiences delivering the ultimate private jet experience to Owners, Members, and guests.

specifically for the aviation space. The company sought a partner that was fast, and expressly built to fit the aviation industry's needs. flyExclusive also required an increased level of flexibility, world-class search, and fleet management capabilities.

Bluetail met each of these needs, responding quickly, especially for a fleet of this size, and arming flyExclusive with the technology needed to level-up the aviation company's maintenance processes.

"We're so excited to welcome flyExclusive to the Bluetail Flock, and to count them as one of the many innovators that truly understand where digital recordkeeping is headed," said Roberto Guerrieri, CEO and co-founder of Bluetail. "Bluetail is unique in a lot of ways, but most important is the heavy lift that we remove, as well as the amount of control that we allow for our customers. With our proprietary platform, customers like flyExclusive can have full control to organize, edit, and share their records. All while decreasing AOG time, saving money, and maximizing their maintenance team."

flyExclusive is also currently in the process of utilizing Bluetail's Conformity module, helping charter operators to substantially decrease conformity time by as much as 60%.
