This event is not only an opportunity to address critical issues facing our community but also a celebration of our resilience, diversity, and collective strength."

Nicholas Batchelor

is thrilled to announce The Pride Summit, a groundbreaking event aimed at fostering unity and empowerment within the LGBTQIA+ community in Arkansas. Set to take place on Saturday, May 4, 2024, at Hendrix College in Conway, Arkansas, The Pride Summit promises to be an unforgettable occasion dedicated to addressing vital issues, forging connections, and celebrating diversity.

The Pride Summit will consist of three dynamic components, each designed to engage and empower attendees:

Invitation-Only Morning Session: Bringing together 30 Pride organizations and organizers from across the state, this exclusive session will focus on building a cohesive coalition to tackle pressing concerns affecting LGBTQIA+ communities. Through collaborative discussions, networking opportunities, and shared resources, participants will gain invaluable insights and support to enhance their advocacy efforts.

Afternoon Session Open to All: With over 75 clubs, organizations, churches, businesses, and individuals involved in LGBTQIA+ activism expected to attend, the afternoon session offers a unique platform for networking, collaboration, and solidarity. From preventing duplication of services to preserving funding and mobilizing towards common goals, this inclusive gathering will empower attendees to effect meaningful change in their communities.

The 2024 Prom: Van Gogh's Starry Night!: As the day draws to a close, attendees are invited to celebrate and unwind at the 2024 Prom, a spectacular event open to all. With its enchanting theme inspired by Van Gogh's iconic masterpiece, the prom promises an unforgettable evening of dancing, camaraderie, and celebration. Attendees can look forward to a live professional DJ, a Prom photo area, and a VIP 21+ section offering specialty beverages.

"We are thrilled to host The Pride Summit and provide a platform for LGBTQIA+ organizers, organizations, and allies to come together, share ideas, and drive positive change," said Nicholas Batchelor, Executive Director of The Pride Alliance. "This event is not only an opportunity to address critical issues facing our community but also a celebration of our resilience, diversity, and collective strength."
