I am happy to join a very successful manufacturing company such as SGD Pharma, and to support its development. The strategic agenda looks exciting and I look forward to working with all teams!"

Philippe Pourquery

Philippe will be responsible for Finance and IT across the Group and help the management team to significantly grow the turnover of the Group, whether through organic growth or acquisitions. He will also contribute, with his team, to the continued improvement of the commercial and industrial performance of the Group, with particular focus on financial processes and management systems. Philippe takes over from Jérôme Brassens, who started at SGD Pharma in 2018 as Chief Financial Officer after spending twenty-five years working for large companies like TotalEnergies or Safran and a successful career at SGD Pharma.

"I would like to thank Jérôme Brassens for his exemplary commitment to SGD Pharma these recent years and to wish all the best to Philippe Pourquery in his new responsibilities within our Group.”

Concluded Olivier Rousseau, CEO at SGD Pharma.
