These endorsements are a testament to my ability to bring forward real solutions to improve the lives of Florida's youth, families, and seniors. As Floridians are facing rising costs on everything from housing to food, funding cuts on our health care and public education, and ever-increasing assaults on individuals based on their race, gender, ethnicity, faith, and sexual orientation, we need a Senator who will stand up for what's right and work to get things done for our community. I've served in the legislature, have a track record of success, and will be ready to hit the ground running on day one."
