Addressing a Rising Need for Substance Abuse Treatment in Maricopa County

The need for accessible Medicaid treatment programs in Maricopa

County is pressing. According to the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA), in 2020, an estimated 12.4% of adults in Arizona reported having a substance use disorder, and 18.4% reported having a mental illness. Furthermore, a report by the Arizona

Department of Health Services found that in 2020, Maricopa County had the highest number of opioid-related overdose deaths in the state, with 444 fatalities.

The rising numbers of overdose deaths are not unique to Arizona, but with its acceptance of AHCCCS insurance, Changes hopes to better provide accessible opioid treatment for Phoenix and Maricopa County as a whole. Even if someone has attempted detox or treatment before, insurance will often help provide coverage following relapse, and it should be utilized as a support for recovery.
