Strategy Officer*

Survey Overview: Benchmarking eDiscovery Costs

Now in its twelfth edition, the semi-annual survey has accumulated input from a total of 837 participants over its previous eleven editions. The Summer 2024 Survey concentrates on the pricing of critical eDiscovery activities, including collection, processing, and review. It acts as a benchmark for professionals in cybersecurity, information governance, and legal discovery to assess market rates and determine the value of eDiscovery services.

"The ComplexDiscovery eDiscovery Pricing Survey has been a reliable source of objective data since 2019, offering law firms, legal departments, and service providers an essential tool for evaluating and managing eDiscovery costs," stated Kaylee Walstad, EDRM Chief Strategy Officer. "With ongoing increases in legal technology expenses, this survey is invaluable for assessing costs and making informed strategic decisions, ensuring that eDiscovery needs align with financial goals."

The survey comprises 24 multiple-choice questions covering various pricing models and allows for additional comments to provide subjective insights from diverse professional perspectives.

Call to Action: Participate and Share Your Expertise

ComplexDiscovery invites all eDiscovery professionals to contribute their unique perspectives to the Summer 2024 Survey. Practitioner expertise is vital for developing a comprehensive understanding of eDiscovery pricing to benefit the broader community.
