

HUSK Pro Digital Solutions Elevate Business Operations for Private Practice Registered Dietitians and Mental Health Pros

New turnkey all-in-one practice management solution

WAYNE, PA, UNITED STATES, July 9, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- HUSK, one of the nation's leading providers of direct telenutrition and tele-mental health services, has introduced HUSK Pro, an all-in-one practice management solution that allows practitioners to concentrate their time and energy on what's most important—the health of their patients.

HUSK is , one of the nation's leading providers of direct telenutrition and tele-mental health services.

HUSK operates the largest network of private practice dietitians in the U.S. and also serves independent mental health professionals. HUSK Pro extends HUSK's proprietary support services to provide emerging and established private practice registered dietitians and mental health practitioners with a single platform that centralizes operations. Visit huskwellness.com/husk-pro/Launching and growing a private practice can be challenging. HUSK Pro was created to address these unique challenges with a comprehensive solution.”

Mike McGrath, Chief Growth Officer, HUSK

HUSK Pro is fully HIPAA compliant and provides complete front-end and back-end support capabilities including patient onboarding, appointment setting, and full electronic health record (EHR) and medical billing. The cloud-based solution enables professionals to manage their practices from anywhere and eliminates the complexity of dealing with multiple vendors and systems.

“HUSK Pro provides a turnkey system to help private practitioners run their offices efficiently so they can support patients on their wellness journeys and drive better personalized health outcomes,” says Mike McGrath, Chief Growth Officer, HUSK. “Launching and growing a private practice can be challenging. HUSK Pro was created to address these unique challenges with a comprehensive solution.”

The HUSK Pro team handles insurance credentialing, and practitioners benefit from features including:

- Online booking with personalized availability and schedule preferences
- Calendar management that integrates with popular calendar apps
- Automated reminders via text, email and push notifications
- Secure video conferencing for telehealth clients
- Centralized client management
- Electronic health record patient forms and visit notes organized in a secure location
- Integrated billing and payment software for insurance-funded or private pay
- Centralized reporting system that provides instant real-time data and insights

Patients are empowered with HUSK Pro benefits that include options to schedule appointments, track goals and message with their practitioner between appointments.

“I never expected to be a small business owner, but I knew that I wanted to work in private practice. Working with a support team like HUSK allows me to put more focus on my clients and spend less time having to work behind the scenes on things I have not been trained to do,” says Samantha DeMello, RD, LD. “Knowing I have a knowledgeable team behind

Husk Pro provides complete front-end and back-end support including patient onboarding, appointment setting, full electronic health record (EHR), medical billing and more.
