Recovery is proud to announce the launch of its state-of-the-art rehabilitation centre, located in the serene Southern Highlands, just a short 1.5-hour drive from Sydney and

Canberra. This premier facility is dedicated to providing world-class, individualised treatment programs designed to foster long-lasting recovery and wellness.

Highlands Recovery stands out from traditional rehab in Sydney by offering a unique, research data-driven approach. Our programs are meticulously tailored to each individual, leveraging the latest global clinical research to ensure the highest proven success rates. The facility's tranquil environment is specifically chosen to enhance the healing and recovery process.

Innovative Treatment Programs

Highlands Recovery employs a comprehensive holistic model that addresses the biological, psychological, and social aspects of substance use disorder. This whole-person approach ensures that clients receive consistent, personalised care that addresses all three aspects of their substance use.

Key features of our programs include

Residential Program: our immersive environment is ideal for individuals needing a refuge from high-risk environments.

Continuity of Care: Ensuring clients benefit from ongoing, tailored support at every stage of their recovery.

Aftercare Program: Offering continuous therapeutic support essential for sustained recovery and long-term wellbeing.

Commitment to Lifelong Recovery

At Highlands Recovery, we are committed to more than just short-term health and wellness. Our mission is to help individuals craft a recovery that evolves with them throughout their lives through private rehab. We believe in creating recovery pathways that grow and change with our clients, ensuring they have the tools and support necessary for a lifetime of wellbeing.
