I have experienced the impact labor shortages have on small business growth. My goal is to provide a great place to source, recruit and train the skilled labor workforce right here in Central Indiana.”

Mindy Paulin

skilled labor permanent placement firm, has opened a franchise location to serve the Indianapolis region. Mindy Paulin, President/CEO of the new location, is dedicated to filling the gap in the skilled labor market.

Raised on a multi-generational family farm, Paulin is well-suited to serving the needs of employers, tradespros and students seeking career starts in the essential services. Mindy and husband Chad own CMP Plumbing and CMP Electric, thriving companies located on the southside. Prior to opening The Blue Collar Recruiter and Virtual Trade School, Mindy built her career in the banking industry.

“For years I have witnessed, and experienced, the impact labor shortages have on small business growth. I understand first-hand the challenges blue collar employers face in finding qualified tradespeople. My goal is to provide a great place to source, recruit and train the skilled labor workforce right here in Central Indiana.”

The Blue Collar Recruiter and Virtual Trade School, founded by president/CEO Troy Latuff, makes it easier for hiring employers to connect with qualified trades candidates. Backed by the support and resources of a national franchise, the Indianapolis office stands poised to make a substantial impact on regional businesses and job seekers alike.

“The local need for professional tradespeople reaches far beyond plumbing, electrical and HVAC,” says Paulin. “Indianapolis has labor gaps of all kinds for great paying jobs. There are openings for mechanics, large equipment operators, warehouse logistics, truck drivers, carpenters and more.”

The Blue Collar Recruiter of Indianapolis offers an array of career opportunities across a wide
