

Cultura by Gabriel Costa Wins Iron A' Design Award in Building Materials and Construction Components Design Category

Innovative Concrete Wall Tile Design, Cultura, Receives International Recognition in the A' Design Awards

COMO, ITALY, July 19, 2024

/EINPresswire.com/ -- The A' Design Award, a highly respected international design competition, has announced Cultura by Gabriel Costa as the recipient of the Iron A' Design Award in the Building Materials and Construction Components Design category. This prestigious recognition highlights the significance of Cultura's innovative design within the building components industry, acknowledging its contribution to advancing design standards and practices.

Cultura's award-winning design holds particular relevance for professionals in the building components sector, as well as potential customers seeking innovative and high-quality solutions. By seamlessly aligning tiling lines in every direction and offering a diverse array of configurations without repetition, Cultura addresses common challenges faced in the industry. This recognition validates the design's practical benefits and showcases its potential to inspire future trends and advancements in building materials and construction components.

Cultura stands out in the market through its unique approach to tile design, drawing inspiration from the artistic heritage of the ancient pre-Columbian Jama Coaque culture. The design comprises four distinct tiles that can be rotated and combined to create a wide variety of patterns reminiscent of the tribe's roller stamp designs. This creative solution not only adds visual interest but also ensures a seamless alignment of tiling lines, enhancing both the aesthetic appeal and functionality of the product.

Cultura

The Iron A' Design Award recognition serves as a testament to Gabriel Costa's commitment to innovation and excellence in the building components industry. This achievement is expected to inspire future projects and designs that push the boundaries of creativity and functionality, while also motivating the Castaa team to continue their pursuit of groundbreaking solutions. As Cultura gains international exposure through this award, it has the potential to influence industry standards and drive the development of more innovative and sustainable building materials.

Gabriel Costa, the driving force behind Cultura, is an architect passionate about the Vitruvius Triad principles and the impact of materials on industrial design. His fascination with concrete and its inherent nobility has led him to create premium designs that prioritize detail, artistry, and purpose through his company, Castaa.
