

IHDLab Partners with Highlands Health Clinic to Donate FIT Kits for Colorectal Cancer Detection

IHDLab donates FIT kits to Highlands Health Clinic for colorectal cancer detection, promoting early diagnosis and community health through accessible testing.

IRVINE, CA, UNITED STATES, July 30, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- IHDLab also known as Innovative Health Diagnostics, a leading provider of high-quality personal health testing based in Irvine, California, proudly announces its partnership with Highlands Health Clinic to donate 350 Fecal Immunochemical Test (FIT) kits. These kits are designed to aid in the detection of colorectal cancer, polyps, and ulcers, significantly contributing to early diagnosis and better health outcomes for the community.

As a pioneer in accessible and affordable healthcare, IHDLab is committed to empowering individuals through precise and actionable clinical testing. The collaboration with Highlands Health Clinic underscores IHDLab's mission to enhance public health through strategic partnerships and community engagement. The FIT kits, known for their reliability and ease of use, will provide critical screening tools for early detection, helping to save lives and reduce the burden of colorectal diseases.

David White, CEO of IHDLab, expressed his enthusiasm for the initiative, stating, "We are thrilled to partner with Highlands Health Clinic in this vital endeavor. Early detection of colorectal cancer is crucial, and by providing these FIT kits, we aim to make a significant impact on the health and
