Patagonia, and many other household-name brands gained their first national exposure as honorees on the Inc. 5000.

"We are honored to join the Inc. 5000 a fourth year in a row, an accomplishment that underscores our commitment to setting up our customers for long-term success," said Bill Gibson, CEO of Deposco. "Our supply chain fulfillment platform was developed with one goal: to unlock growth for our customers. We appreciate the trust our customers place in us, and we will continue innovating to scale the positive results, operational flexibility, and positive momentum we've built together."

The Inc. 5000 class of 2024 represents companies that have driven rapid revenue growth while navigating inflationary pressure, the rising costs of capital, and seemingly intractable hiring challenges. Among this year's top 500 companies, the average median three-year revenue growth rate is 1,637 percent. In all, this year's Inc. 5000 companies have added 874,458 jobs to the economy over the past three years.
