Carissa’s performance at the Viper Room marks her first show in Los Angeles since signing with Starpower Management within the past 12 months and is expected to attract a diverse audience of fans, industry insiders, and music lovers. Known for its rich musical history, the Viper Room has hosted countless legendary artists over the years from Courtney Love to Cher; and is an ideal venue for Carissa to showcase her talents.

The evening promises to be a celebration of Carissa's music, featuring tracks from her upcoming album, which is set to release in 2025. “I want this show to be an intimate experience where fans can connect with the music and the stories behind it,” Carissa told Hollywood Sentinel. “I’m excited to perform “Try Again” live for the first time and share this journey with everyone.”

“Try Again” has already garnered praise from Hollywood Sentinel, noting its “Motown vibe and empowering, feminist lyrics.” With its blend of heartfelt storytelling and infectious beats, the track, along with her other new releases, positions Carissa as a formidable contender in the contemporary music scene. Fans can also listen to “Try Again” now on all major streaming platforms, including Spotify, Apple Music, and YouTube among more.

Confessional Pop

Carissa Summer Rose represents a new generation of artists making “Confessional Pop,” who are unafraid to tackle personal and societal themes through their music. As mental health awareness continues to grow, her message of resilience resonates strongly in today’s world. The collaboration with Safe Travels adds an additional layer of depth, combining pop and rap elements that reflect the diversity of her musical influences.

The release of “Try Again” aligns with a larger trend in the industry where artists are increasingly collaborating across genres, enriching the musical landscape. Carissa’s willingness to explore these collaborations underscores her commitment to artistic growth and innovation.
