Naylor tours regularly in the USA, Europe, Asia, and Canada, performing for dedicated fans around the world for more than two decades. The artist's October 2024 concerts in Vancouver BC were completely sold-out and this will be her second time performing in Brussels, Bruges, and Berlin. "I'm excited to return to these beautiful cities, reconnect with fans, and share uplifting new songs from my 12th album. Seeing friends and making music with great musicians is a 'Treasure of the Heart'," says Naylor.

The singer is known for her rich, soulful voice and innovative approach to jazz standards, rock anthems, and original compositions. Her new 2024 album, "Treasures of the Heart," features a collection of ten original songs and four covers, showcasing Naylor's versatility as a vocalist and her ability to seamlessly blend genres. Highlights from the album include an Afro-Cuban inspired take on the Rodgers and Hart classic “I Didn’t Know What Time It Was,” a sensitive interpretation of Burt Bacharach and Hal David’s iconic “This Guy’s in Love with You,” and the encouraging and very groovy Naylor and Khu originals “Love’s Around” and “Treasures of the Heart.”

With a career that spans decades, Naylor has performed at prestigious venues around the world and has released multiple critically acclaimed albums, including her latest, twelfth release "Treasures of the Heart."

Naylor's albums have made exclusive Top Ten lists, and her music featured in ad campaigns, television shows and films, including a documentary made about her. The extremely versatile singer also gained notoriety for an arrangement technique she coined "acoustic smashing" where she sings a jazz standard over the groove of a well-known rock anthem or vice versa.
