EINPresswire.com/ -- Black Unicorn Factory has launched Follow Me For Equity, an innovative app designed to democratize investing by enabling users to earn equity in over 100 pre-IPO startups without requiring any financial investment. This unique approach aims to make wealth-building accessible to individuals traditionally excluded from investment opportunities due to financial limitations.

“Everyone deserves a chance to invest and build wealth, regardless of their financial situation,” said Johnny Stewart, Founder and CEO of Black Unicorn Factory, the developer of Follow Me For Equity. “Our app empowers individuals to take control of their financial future by investing their time instead of money. For too long, money has been the deciding factor in who can invest. With Follow Me For Equity, that’s no longer the case.”
