EINPresswire.com/ -- Introducing the revolutionary solution in workplace safety compliance. READI Collect is officially launching today. Readi is Readi.

READI Collect has launched offering a revolutionary new app designed to streamline the post-accident drug and alcohol testing process for companies.

Due to compliance requirements with Department of Transportation regulations, this app offers unprecedented collector response time and real-time reporting, making it easier than ever for employers to conduct post-accident testing within the DOT regulation timelines.

The app also benefits customers with non-DOT-regulated employees, as it allows for scheduled onsite testing, eliminating the need for employees to travel to a testing facility. With our precise reporting this will be a big help meeting any OSHA safety requirements. With its user-friendly interface and advanced patented technology, READI Collect is the cutting-edge solution for drug and alcohol testing compliance.

With a focus on post-accident onsite testing, READI Collect has a streamlined and efficient approach to ensure workplace safety and regulatory compliance. Stay ahead of the curve with
