EINPresswire.com/ -- Arizona Sunrays, a youth gymnastics and dance leader, proudly participated in the Local First Fall Festival on November 9th. This annual celebration of Arizona's small business community brought together over 20,000 attendees to enjoy live music, local food, and family-friendly activities in downtown Phoenix.

As a Legacy Partner of Local First Arizona, Arizona Sunrays has long supported the organization's mission to build a strong, sustainable local economy. "We're honored to be part of Local First Arizona and to celebrate alongside so many incredible local businesses," said Kenzie Gassaway, General Manager at Arizona Sunrays. "The Fall Festival is a fantastic opportunity to connect with the community and showcase our services."

At the event, Arizona Sunrays offered hands-on activities. They shared information about its gymnastics and dance programs, which are designed to help children develop physical skills, confidence, and a love for movement. The festival also highlighted the importance of supporting local businesses, which, according to Local First Arizona, keep more money in the local economy and help create thriving communities.

Arizona Sunrays has been an active member of Local First Arizona for several years and remains committed to its mission of supporting the state's local business ecosystem.
