A Journey Marked by Adversity and Triumph

Anthony's story is rooted in perseverance. Diagnosed with a congenital heart defect at five years old, he overcame health challenges and cultural and language barriers as an immigrant to the United States. As a first-generation to be born outside of a farm and graduate from university, he places tremendous emphasis on the value of life-long learning. These early experiences laid the foundation for his deep sense of gratitude and unwavering resilience. Today, he uses those lessons to guide others in overcoming their own challenges and embracing opportunities for growth.

In the interview, Anthony reflects on pivotal moments in his life:

- Founding Two Businesses: From being laid-off to running his own hedge fund and to building a preschool group via rollups in Singapore, Anthony shares how his finance background and problem-solving skills were transferable across industries.
- Founding the Institute for Greatness: Driven by a passion for education and leadership, Anthony explains how he transitioned from educating toddlers and mentoring young learners to empowering senior executives and professionals.

Empowering Professionals to Break Barriers

Through the Institute for Greatness, Anthony works with high-achieving professionals to achieve breakthroughs in their careers and leadership roles. His structured 1-on-1 and group coaching programs focus on helping clients embrace challenges, think outside the box, and align their careers with their values.

“Many people allow careers to consume and define them,” Anthony explains. “But it’s time to take control of our own stories—ones we can be proud of.”

Key Highlights from the Interview

- The Importance of Taking Calculated Risks: Anthony emphasizes the value of preparation and adaptability when navigating career pivots.
- Leadership Redefined: True leadership, he notes, is less about titles and short-term outcomes and more about empathy, authenticity, and inspiring others.
- Success on Your Own Terms: For Anthony, success is measured not by external accolades but by the fulfillment of choosing to live in alignment with personal values and life purpose.
