leading BOI (Beneficial Ownership Information) filing software platform, has partnered with the Nevada, Utah, and Alaska Societies of CPAs to provide a free CPE course for their members on December 5.

The course is designed to equip each state's society members with the knowledge and resources to assist their clients in meeting the fast-approaching January 1, 2025, deadline for filing BOI reports under the Corporate Transparency Act (CTA).

"As the January 1 deadline looms, our CPAs are stepping in as trusted advisors for business owners navigating these new requirements," said Anna Durst, CEO of the Nevada Society of CPAs. "We're proud to collaborate with FincenFetch to offer this timely and valuable course, helping our members guide their clients toward compliance with confidence and ease."

FincenFetch's platform uses advanced AI technology to streamline BOI reporting, offering custom-branded solutions for CPA firms to enhance client collaboration. This free CPE course on December 5 is part of FincenFetch's broader initiative to partner with CPA societies nationwide, ensuring professionals are equipped to meet the ongoing demands of the CTA.

"With just over a month to go, millions of businesses still need to file their BOI reports," said Charles Wismer, CEO of FincenFetch. "This deadline is critical, and CPAs are at the forefront of compliance efforts. FincenFetch is committed to providing CPA firms with intuitive, secure, and efficient tools to simplify filing, enabling them to focus on delivering exceptional service to their clients."

To date, FincenFetch has partnered with 40 state CPA societies along with numerous law and realtor associations across the country. For more information on the course or to book a demo of FincenFetch's platform, click here.
