HOUSTON, TX, UNITED STATES, December 2, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Newly-opened Meow Wolf in Houston, Texas receives the Certified Autism Center™ (CAC) designation, granted by the International Board of Credentialing and Continuing Education Standards™ (IBCCES). This designation is provided to organizations where at least 80% of front-facing staff have completed an autism-specific training and certification process, ensuring they are equipped with the resources and knowledge to best support autistic and sensory-sensitive visitors.

“Earning the Certified Autism Center™ designation is a meaningful step in ensuring our Houston exhibition can be enjoyed by all who walk through its doors,” says Meow Wolf Houston General Manager Gil Perez. “This recognition reflects our dedication to creating spaces where every visitor can explore, connect, and be inspired by the transformative power of art.”

In addition to the certification, IBCCES conducted an onsite review of the new location to create sensory guides and provide additional recommendations to enhance the experience for autistic and sensory-sensitive individuals and their families.

“We are honored that Meow Wolf’s Houston location has joined Santa Fe, Las Vegas, Denver, and Grapevine as Certified Autism Centers™. By ensuring that autistic and sensory-sensitive visitors can fully enjoy the immersive and magical experience Meow Wolf has to offer, they are setting a new standard for excellence," says Myron Pincomb, IBCCES board chairman.

Since 2001, IBCCES has been the leader in autism, neurodiversity, and cognitive disorder training and certification for healthcare, education, and corporate professionals around the globe. IBCCES created programs specifically for hospitality and recreational organizations, such as hotels, theme parks, museums, and other attractions, so staff would be more knowledgeable and other accommodations could be offered to this growing, but underserved, part of the community. IBCCES is the only credentialing board offering these types of programs, which include training from subject matter experts and autistic self-advocates, as well as long-term support, continuous learning, and more.

IBCCES also created AutismTravel.com, a free online resource for parents that lists certified locations and professionals. Each organization listed on the site has met Certified Autism Center™ (CAC) requirements.

This recognition reflects our dedication to creating spaces where every visitor can explore, connect, and be inspired by the transformative power of art.”
