

Tess Mann Atelier Launches Seasonless Collections

Nashville's Tess Mann Atelier announces year-round collections with launch of the Sophisticate Collection reflecting a commitment to sustainable luxury fashion.

NASHVILLE, TN, UNITED STATES, December 2, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Following successful showcases across major international fashion weeks, Tess Mann Atelier (TMA) announces a transformative shift in its approach to fashion, moving away from traditional seasonal collections to embrace a more sustainable, seasonless model.

This strategic evolution debuts with the launch of the Sophisticate Collection, which has garnered international acclaim during the Spring/Summer 2025 Global Fashion Collective showcases in Tokyo, New York, Milan, and Vancouver.

Fashion should transcend the constraints of seasons and embrace timeless elegance that speaks to the modern, conscious consumer.”

"Fashion should transcend the constraints of seasons and embrace timeless elegance that speaks to the modern, conscious consumer," says Tess Mann, founder and creative director of Tess Mann Atelier.

"Our transition to seasonless collections reflects not just a change in scheduling, but a deeper commitment to sustainable, enduring fashion that our clients can cherish year-round."

The Sophisticate Collection, which marks this pivotal shift, exemplifies TMA's dedication to an ethos of "poetry in motion" through:

- Architectural details that defy seasonal constraints
- Hand-crafted embroidery and beading that elevate each piece to wearable art
- Versatile designs that seamlessly transition between occasions and seasons
- Premium, sustainably sourced materials that ensure longevity

This move aligns TMA with fashion industry leaders like Gucci and Prada, who have similarly broken free from traditional seasonal calendars. The brand's decision reflects a growing industry recognition that the future of luxury fashion lies in creating enduring pieces that transcend seasonal boundaries.

"Our clientele consists of confident individuals who seek clothing that reflects their values and lifestyle," Mann explains. "By moving to a seasonless model, we're not just creating fashion, we're crafting a sustainable legacy of pieces that can be worn and treasured throughout the year."

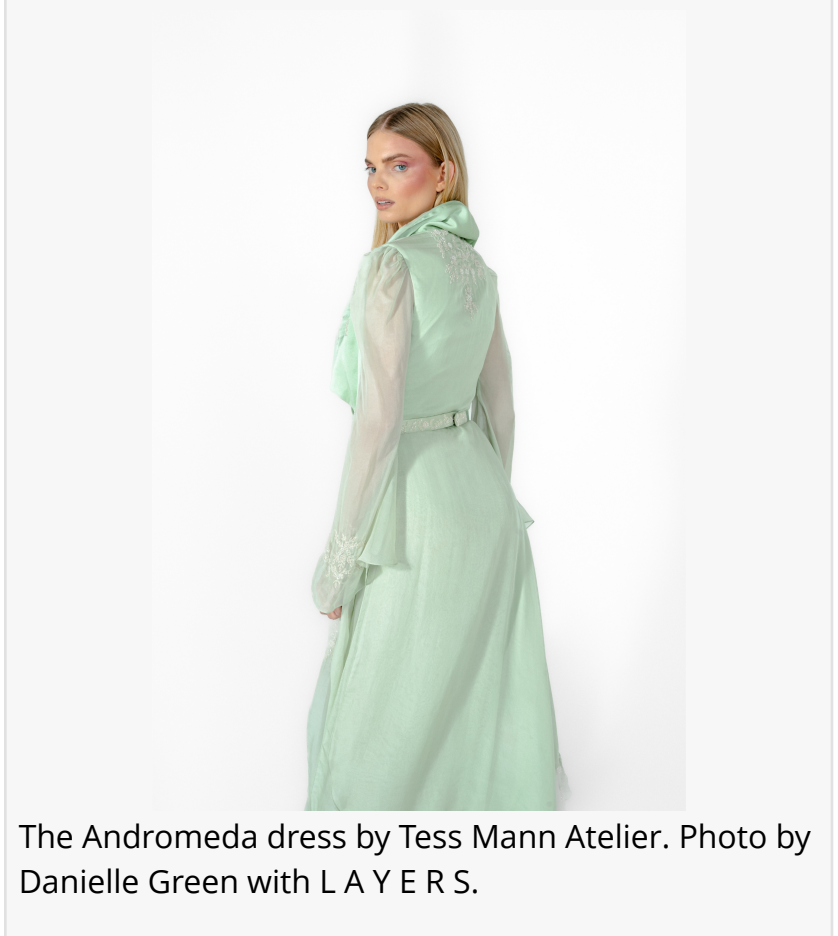

The Sophisticate Collection, showcased during the recent Global Fashion Collective international tour, features evening wear, cocktail attire, resort wear, and bespoke pieces that embody this new direction. Each garment is designed with versatility in mind, allowing for seamless styling across seasons while maintaining TMA's signature sophistication.

In addition to this strategic shift, TMA continues to prioritize:

- Limited production runs to ensure exclusivity and minimize waste
- Use of dead stock materials and carefully selected natural fabrics
