Global Immigration Partners PLLC
Shares Key Updates on U.S.
Immigration Policies and Opportunities for 2025

Global Immigration Partners PLLC, a leading U.S. immigration law firm, announces the latest updates and insights on critical visa categories, including the EB-5 Green Card, L-1 Visa, and E-2 Visa. As the landscape of U.S. immigration evolves, individuals, businesses, and investors must stay informed of policy changes and upcoming developments shaping immigration pathways in 2025.

Significant Developments in U.S. Immigration
EB-5 Immigrant Investor Program

The EB-5 program continues to attract foreign investors seeking permanent U.S. residency through economic contributions. Key updates include:
Reauthorization of the Regional Center Program: Extended through September 30, 2027, this provides stability for investors collaborating with regional centers.
Increased Investment Thresholds: Minimum investments have risen to $1,050,000, or $800,000 for projects in Targeted Employment Areas (TEAs), including rural or high-unemployment regions.

L-1 Visa for Multinational Employees

The L-1 Visa remains critical for multinational corporations transferring executives, managers, or specialized knowledge employees to the U.S.

Enhanced Compliance Standards: Recent USCIS guidance emphasizes stricter evidence requirements, especially for L-1B visas involving specialized knowledge.

Streamlined Processes: Site visit protocols have been improved to expedite legitimate cases while ensuring compliance.

E-2 Visa for Treaty Investors

The E-2 Visa continues to provide opportunities for investors from treaty countries to establish and operate businesses in the U.S.

Spousal Work Authorization: Spouses of E-2 visa holders now have the automatic right to work in any occupation without an additional Employment Authorization Document (EAD).

Increased Interest: Entrepreneurs from countries like Australia, South Korea, and Italy continue to leverage this visa for business expansion in the growing U.S. market.
