

CodaPet launches compassionate in-home pet euthanasia services to Austin, TX, and surrounding areas.

The veterinarian-owned startup empowers a network of veterinarians who provide in-home euthanasia to ease the passing of pets at home, surrounded by loved ones.

AUSTIN, TX, UNITED STATES, December 13, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ --

CodaPet has officially opened its services in Austin, TX, teaming up with a local vet. The company provides peaceful in-home pet euthanasia through a network of compassionate and licensed veterinarians who offer end-of-life care for pets at home. In-home pet euthanasia is the best experience for dogs and cats and their families because their home is where they feel most familiar and comfortable. Dr. Danielle Chapman will be servicing Austin and surrounding areas.

I decided to offer IHE because I wanted to give the pets the most compassionate and peaceful passing that can be given.”

“As an in-home euthanasia veterinarian, I repeatedly hear the heartfelt gratitude and the relief a family feels when they have been able to grant their pet this gift. It is my wish that every family in Austin become aware of at-home pet euthanasia so they may provide a peaceful and compassionate end-of-life experience for their beloved pets when their time comes,” says Dr. Gary Hsia, a co-founder of CodaPet.

Dr. Gary Hsia, Dr. Bethany Hsia, and Dr. Karen Whala are co-founders and veterinarians of CodaPet. They share a passion for increasing both customer access and awareness by empowering a network of veterinarians who provide compassion and professional care to more pets and their families in a familiar environment.

“I decided to offer IHE because I wanted to give the pets the most compassionate and peaceful passing that can be given. It would break my heart to see an animal scared or uncomfortable in their last moments at a vet clinic. CodaPet allows more vets to offer this service whilst helping the vets to maintain a balance of being able to focus solely on the pet and client without having to worry about the intricacies of running a business.," says Dr. Danielle Chapman. Dr. Chapman is devoted to providing compassionate and peaceful end-of-life care for pets in the comfort of their homes. Inspired by her lifelong admiration for veterinarians' dedication and compassion, Dr. Chapman pursued her dream by graduating with high honors from the University of Michigan in 2000 and earning her DVM with honors from Michigan State University in 2002.

With over two decades of veterinary experience across the U.S. and internationally, Dr. Chapman has focused on in-home care since 2010. She believes that saying goodbye in a familiar, loving environment helps ease the burden for both pets and their families during life's most difficult moments.

Dr. Chapman services Austin, Manchaca, Leander, Buda, Mc Neil, Cedar Park, Pflugerville, Del Valle, Round Rock, Dripping Springs, Kyle, and surrounding areas

Benefits of In-home Pet Euthanasia include:

1. Compassion: In-home pet euthanasia allows for a more compassionate approach to end-of-life care. Pets can be surrounded by their loved ones, receive individual attention and care, and pass away peacefully in a familiar environment.
2. Comfort: One major benefit of in-home pet euthanasia is the comfort it provides to both the pet and their owners. The familiar surroundings of home can help reduce anxiety and stress for pets, making the process more peaceful. In addition, being surrounded by loved ones can provide a sense of support and comfort during a very difficult time.
3. Control: In-home pet euthanasia also allows pet owners to have more control over the experience. They can choose the time and place of the euthanasia, as well as who will be present. In addition, in-home euthanasia allows owners to personalize the experience, including choosing the location, music, lighting, and other factors that can make the experience more meaningful.
4. Closure: Being able to say goodbye in a meaningful way can be an essential part of the grieving process. In-home pet euthanasia allows for a more intimate farewell, which can provide closure and help with the healing process.

How In-home Pet Euthanasia Works

Through CodaPet's website, pet parents can easily book in-home pet euthanasia performed by a licensed vet.

Before the appointment, the vet contacts the family to address any questions or concerns they might have.

The vet assists the family by going over the diagnosis and applying a quality-of-life assessment to objectively assess the pet's health and ensure there is no uncertainty about the need for euthanasia.

For those who need support with aftercare, CodaPet can also assist with transportation and cremation services.

The visit takes, on average, one hour. Pet parents have a window of time to be with their pets privately before and after the euthanasia procedure, which lasts about 15 minutes. The vet only starts the euthanasia process when everyone is ready. This helps bring closure to all family members involved in the end-of-life care of a pet.

In-home Pet Euthanasia Costs

The starting price of in-home euthanasia starts at $375 in Austin, TX. The aftercare and cremation price begins at $100 and varies depending on factors such as the driving distance, the pet's size, and the option for private or communal cremation.
