As part of this recognition, Troxell was awarded a Kenworth T680 truck, valued at nearly $200,000. This life-changing prize will enable him to become an owner-operator and establish himself as a business owner working with Stevens Transport.

I honestly thought after coming out of the military that you fade away. No one thinks about you anymore; you're done. But this is proof that's not true"

Cory Troxell

Cory Troxell served in the U.S. Army for 20 years and is a Purple Heart recipient. A third-generation servicemember, he continues his family's legacy of military service, with his son currently serving in the U.S. Army. Troxell's commitment to excellence extended into his new career as a truck driver, where he participated in a Registered Apprenticeship Program at Stevens Transport, further honing his skills for success.

"I honestly thought after coming out of the military that you fade away. No one thinks about you anymore; you're done. But this is proof that's not true," said an emotional Cory Troxell. "I cannot thank Stevens Transport enough. To everyone at the Company, thank you, thank you, thank you," he added.

"We could not have nominated a better candidate than Cory Troxell. Veterans are so important to our Country, and Cory brings commitment, discipline, focus, professionalism, integrity, and safety to the job", said Angela Horowitz, Vice President of Stevens Transport. "Those are the cornerstones our company is built on".

Cory Troxell will join the Contractor Division at Stevens Transport

The Transition Trucking: Driving for Excellence Award is a collaborative initiative by Kenworth, Hiring Our Heroes, and Fastport, aimed at supporting military veterans transitioning to the trucking industry. Cory Troxell is the third Stevens Transport to win this award.
