Transforming Mental Health Through Technology

Social AI specializes in creating tokenized AI agents and "clones" designed for a variety of applications, including managing social media engagement, scheduling, appointments, and sales for businesses. These AI-powered clones will empower patients through Onchain Wellness to schedule therapy sessions, access mental health programs, and participate in innovative recovery resources designed to combat substance abuse, anxiety, and depression.

"We believe that while treating patients one person at a time is impactful, AI allows us to scale that care to millions, breaking barriers of language, time, and accessibility," said Joe Fletcher, CEO of Social AI. "With this partnership, we can deliver recovery programs that are always available and tailored to each individual's needs, creating a global impact."

Social AI's natural user interface technology enables the creation of conversational AI clones designed for diverse applications. Each clone is tokenized, offering unique functionalities and unlocking new opportunities for growth through Initial AI Offerings (IAOs). Attendees at the gifting lounge will have the chance to experience clones like Mario Nawfal, CoachK, and Victoria AI firsthand by visiting beta.socialai.io.
