The company attributes part of this robust growth to the strategic addition of two new Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) partners who have integrated ancora into their platform and are reselling it into new and existing customers. One of the new ERP partners boasts annual revenues exceeding $1 billion, while the other generates over $600 million annually. These partnerships have significantly enhanced ancora's reach and its ability to offer comprehensive, end-to-end solutions that help organizations streamline operations, improve efficiency, and reduce costs.

"Adding 85 new customers in a single quarter is a testament to the demand for intelligent automation solutions that drive operational efficiency," said Noel Flynn, CEO of ancora Software. "We are thrilled to continue expanding globally and to work alongside our new ERP partners to offer even more value to our customers. The combination of our innovative solutions and the power of our strategic partnerships has proven to be a catalyst for success in key markets."

The company's continued focus on industry-specific solutions, along with its ability to integrate seamlessly with leading ERP systems, positions ancora Software as a preferred partner for businesses looking to enhance their document processing capabilities.

As ancora Software moves into 2025, the company remains committed to expanding its global customer base and offering cutting-edge automation solutions to organizations across the globe.
