Global Economic Growth Virtual Summit 2025

Local Economies Hold the Key to Global Growth and Poverty Eradication. We Are Committed to the Vision, Identifying and Unlocking Every Local Economy for Growth and Development.”

*Dr. Dominion V. Judah,
President General of WSANDN*

The Organization is Committed to the Vision, Identifying and Unlocking Every Local Economy for Growth and Development, according to Dr. Dominion V. Judah, President- General of the Organization, "Local Economies Hold the Key to Global Growth and Poverty Eradication. We Are Committed to the Vision, Identifying and Unlocking Every Local Economy for Growth and Development."

In a world where global economic challenges are intensifying, the WSANDN Global Economic Growth Virtual Summit 2025 aims to provide transformative solutions that focus on empowering local economies and infrastructures.

this virtual summit will gather thought leaders, policymakers, and experts to explore community-driven strategies that drive long-term, sustainable growth for nations and their citizens. The summit is set to take place virtually on March 10, 2025, beginning at 10:00 AM EST.

The Lead Speaker:

The summit will be headlined by Dr. Dominion V. Judah, the President-General of WSandN and a globally recognized authority on economic development. As the author of influential books such as Economics and Finance: Win-Win Growth Strategies, Subnational Prosperity, and Ending Poverty: Peace Instead of War, Dr. Judah's vision for economic growth is both innovative and practical. His address will focus on how strengthening local economies—by fostering equitable, community-driven development—can unlock global prosperity as well as unveil the actual future of economic growth and development.

Dr. Judah's address will emphasize the urgent need for balanced, community-based development, where the prosperity of local economies becomes the foundation for addressing the global economic crisis. He will discuss how well-coordinated, locally focused policies can effectively reduce poverty and promote sustainable economic growth. The summit will explore how local governance and infrastructures play pivotal roles in creating resilient and dynamic economies. Dr. Judah believes that addressing economic inequality at the local level will contribute to global stability, peace and poverty eradication.

Featured Speakers

The summit will feature a distinguished lineup of speakers from diverse sectors, each bringing unique expertise to the conversation:

Dr. Thomas Young, Managing Partner at Econometric Studios (USA), will provide insights into innovative economic modeling and forecasting strategies.

John Davies, Global Strategist and Head of Commodities Analysis at Fitch Solutions (UK), will discuss the impact of global commodities on local economies and strategies for reducing economic volatility.

Kyle Asman, Venture Capitalist and CEO of Asmancon (USA), will share his expertise in financing and scaling local businesses, particularly in emerging markets.

Kritika Narula, Legal Expert and Former Policy Advisor (UAE), will address the importance of legal frameworks for sustainable economic growth, especially in developing economies.

Monica Greer, PhD, Development Economist (USA), will explore sustainable development models and how they can drive lasting economic success for local communities.
