Incorporating Music into Property Design

The integration of pianos in development projects is being explored as a means to enrich the atmosphere and cultural appeal of a space. Whether installed in lobbies, lounges, or private residences, a carefully selected instrument can contribute to a refined and engaging setting.

Customized and Bespoke Piano Services

To address diverse design requirements, HOUSE OF PIANOS now offers a Customized and Bespoke Piano

Service. This service allows clients to commission instruments with tailored features—including custom finishes, personalized engraving, and design accents—that align with specific interior aesthetics and project themes.

Consultancy and Guidance

In addition to its product offerings, HOUSE OF PIANOS provides consultancy services to assist clients in selecting the appropriate instrument based on factors such as spatial design, acoustics, and thematic requirements. The company's expertise has been sought by several prominent property developers, including Emaar, Damac, Aldar, Sobha, SLS, and Pantheon, as well as architectural firms such as Kristina Zanic, CK Architects, and Olsen and Partners.

Continued Commitment to Quality
With over a decade of industry experience, HOUSE OF PIANOS emphasizes the importance of regular maintenance and after-sales service to preserve the performance and appearance of its instruments. This ongoing support is intended to ensure that each piano continues to meet the evolving needs of luxury environments across the region.
