

NewTerritory Designs Exclusive Bedding Kit for Aeroméxico Business Class

LONDON, UNITED KINGDOM, February 11, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Today, London-based Brand Experience Studio, NewTerritory, has unveiled a new bedding kit for Aeroméxico, called the Premier One Comfort Kit.

The new design, watch the launch video here, will be exclusively for Premier One passengers of Mexico's largest airline and was part of a wider project to refresh the visual language on-board the aircraft.

The design builds on NewTerritory's ongoing relationship with Aeroméxico, which previously included redesigning the airline's cabin interiors to create an "on-board social space".

The new bedding kits have been created to reflect Mexican culture, craft and community in a fine hospitality setting, featuring five premium soft products:

- Mattress Pad: Contemporary hospitality design using a premium filling for extra support and comfort for the passenger.
- Cotton Pillow: Premium breathable material with a textured finish and an extremely soft, comfortable pillow inner filled with 100% recycled fibre filling.
- Quilted Blanket: Adaptable for passenger comfort during travel, with 100% recycled fibre filling.
- Reusable Bag: Includes a dedicated headphone pocket and stores all soft furnishings in the kit.
- Premium Headphones: Designed for superior audio quality.
- Together, the blanket, pillow and reusable bag help divert the equivalent of 60 plastic bottles from landfill per collection.

London-based Brand Experience studio unveils business-class bedding kit which defines modern Mexico

Commenting on the launch of the new bedding kit, NewTerritory founder and director, Luke

Miles said: "Designing a bedding kit that is both practical and embodies the essence of Mexico, synonymous with Aeroméxico for 90 years, was a significant responsibility. We sought to create something authentic that defines modern Mexico.

"We collaborated with renowned Mexican architect Frida Escobedo and designer Concha Orvañanos to create a collection that captures the essence of a modern Mexican home or hotel while prioritising passenger comfort. Partnering with John Horsfall to perfect the soft products and Linstol to deliver premium headphones, we ensured that every element came together seamlessly to elevate the travel experience with unmatched style and thoughtful design."

Vice president of product and onboard services at Aeroméxico, Antonio Fernandez Ojeda, said: "Collaborating with NewTerritory was a valuable and enriching experience. Their dedication to honoring our Mexican heritage was evident in their approach and process, while their deep understanding of our culture culminated in a meticulously designed experience.

"NewTerritory acknowledged cultural nuances through a blend of traditional and contemporary craftsmanship. They created a brand experience that not only celebrates our rich past but also defines a future of excellence."

NewTerritory has a longstanding relationship with Aeroméxico, recently recognised as the most on-time airline in 2024 as it celebrated its 90th anniversary, and is behind major airline design work for the likes of Delta Air Lines and Airbus.
