This novel honor recognizes healthcare professionals who deliver outstanding care to international travelers, expatriates, students, and individuals traveling abroad—ensuring seamless healthcare access without language barriers.

Excellence in International Medical Care

culturally competent care:

Transforming Healthcare Access for Travelers

Historically, travelers have faced uncertainty when seeking medical care abroad, often relying on reactive last-minute online searches, hotel recommendations, or word-of-mouth referrals. MyAbroadMDs is revolutionizing this approach by providing members with curated doctor directories (CDD) tailored to their destination/itinerary and medical needs before departure. "Our mission extends beyond connecting travelers with doctors—we ensure no one feels vulnerable when seeking care abroad," says Cori Cohen, Founder of MyAbroadMDs. "Whether you're studying in Florence, retiring in the South of France, or embarking on a global adventure across Europe, Asia, or Africa, you deserve access to high-quality medical care that addresses both your medical and cultural needs. By providing travelers with curated English-speaking physician directories before departure, we empower them with peace of mind to explore the world confidently."

Beyond Medicine: Commitment to Global Care

Each award recipient demonstrates dedication to bridging cultural and language gaps in healthcare, ensuring international patients receive both expert treatment and emotional support.

Dr. Gordon emphasizes the importance of personalized care: "My practice focuses on understanding each patient's background and helping them navigate an unfamiliar healthcare system with confidence."

Dr. León views this recognition as validation of MedVisit's mission: "International patients often struggle with language barriers and complex healthcare systems. MedVisit eliminates these challenges by providing direct access to trusted, English-speaking doctors, ensuring comprehensive care when far from home."

Dr. Kurpanik values the cultural exchange inherent in her practice: "Treating international patients allows me to experience diverse cultures while providing essential medical support."

The Unidad Médica team emphasizes its understanding of international patients: "Our experience living abroad informs our approach to patient care, ensuring we address both medical and cultural needs effectively."

As international travel evolves and there is a trend to relocate abroad, reliable healthcare access remains a critical yet often overlooked necessity. MyAbroadMDs addresses this challenge by connecting travelers with trusted, English-speaking medical professionals before their journey begins. From executives managing chronic conditions to students studying abroad and families seeking peace of mind, MyAbroadMDs ensures seamless navigation of foreign healthcare systems.

Through the Global Awards of Distinction, MyAbroadMDs celebrates exceptional medical professionals who share its vision of creating a worldwide network where quality healthcare transcends borders.
