

ATS Aviation and Aviation Component Solutions Inc. Sign Exclusive Distribution Agreement

DUBAI, UNITED ARAB EMIRATES, February 11, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- ATS Aviation, a leading provider of aviation parts and components, and Aviation Component Solutions Inc. (ACS), a leading supplier of OEM alternative parts, signed an exclusive distribution agreement in the Middle East. This agreement enhances services available to ATS Aviation's regional customers and broadens ACS's footprint in the Middle East.

Under the agreement, ATS Aviation is the exclusive distributor of high-quality aircraft parts and components from ACS in the United Arab Emirates, Saudi Arabia, Jordan, Egypt, Qatar, Kuwait, Oman, and Bahrain.

Headquartered in Dubai, ATS Aviation will be able to offer ACS's advanced product lines to airlines and operators in these markets, enhancing their fleet capabilities and operational efficiency. This partnership also significantly expands ACS's footprint in the Middle East, enabling the company to offer its high-quality, OEM alternative components to a broader range of airlines and operators.

"ACS produces a wide range of parts and components known for performance and reliability," said Mahdi Al-Tahaineh, founder of ATS Group. “This collaboration strengthens our position as the region’s leading provider of aircraft parts and components, aligning with our mission to provide reliable, cost-effective, and innovative solutions that keep our customers’ fleets running smoothly.”

“ACS looks forward to working together with ATS and building a very successful partnership. Together these two companies share a common goal to expand aircraft part offerings in the region and maximize the potential it brings with the Airline expansion plans in the Middle East.” said Mike Wilson EMEA Sales Director who will be working with the ATS team.

This announcement comes as ATS Group accelerates its global service offerings, following a recent rebrand that positions the company for even greater impact. With ATS Aviation as the cornerstone, ATS Group also includes ATS Technic, the first independent EASA-certified line maintenance organization in the UAE, and ATS Medical, a trusted provider of high-quality medical devices and solutions, all leveraging the ATS network to deliver exceptional value.

The agreement was announced in February 2025 at the MRO Middle East, the largest MRO in the region, held in ATS Group’s headquarters city of Dubai, United Arab Emirates.
