

Prestige Men's Health Expands ED Treatment Capacity with New Technician

Prestige Men's Health hires a new Technician to expand Acoustic Wave Therapy treatments and adds 120 new TV ad spots for greater outreach.

HOLLADAY, UT, UNITED STATES, March 17, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Prestige Men's Health, a leader in men's wellness and Erectile Dysfunction (ED) treatments, is expanding its services with the addition of a highly trained Acoustic Wave Therapy Technician. This new position will allow the clinic to increase daily treatment capacity, ensuring faster appointment availability for men seeking non-invasive, cutting-edge ED treatments.

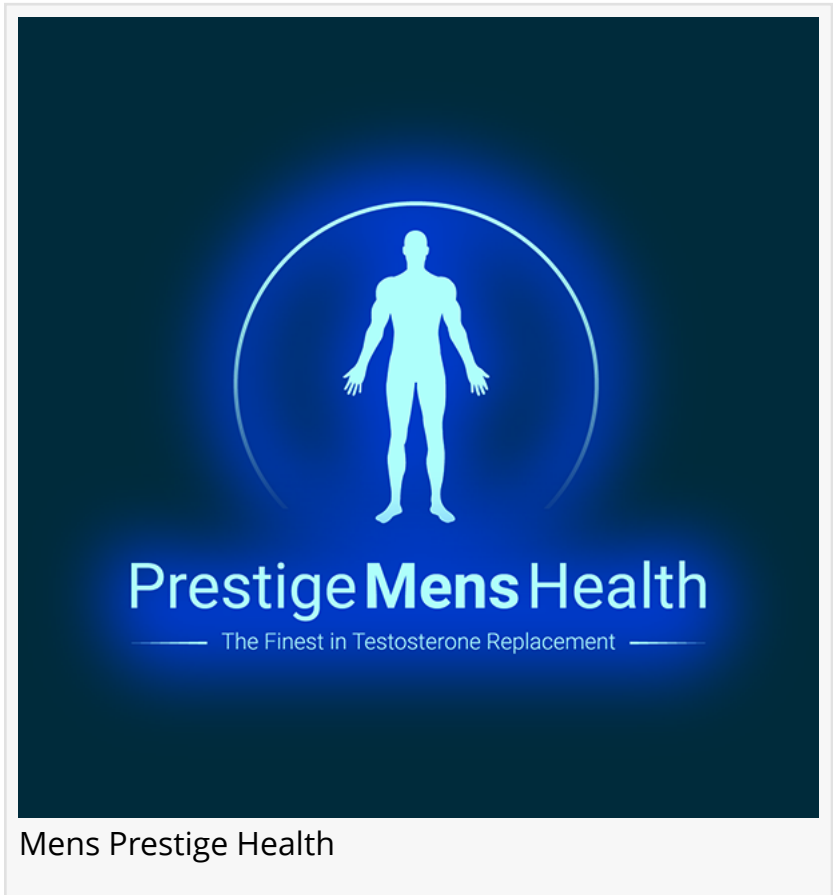

Acoustic Wave Therapy is a clinically proven method for improving blood flow and promoting natural healing, providing long-term benefits for men experiencing erectile dysfunction. The new technician will undergo extensive training on the latest equipment to ensure optimal patient care and treatment effectiveness.

"Expanding our team allows us to meet the growing demand for effective, non-invasive ED treatments while ensuring the highest level of patient care," said Dr. Joshua Schmidt, Medical Director at Prestige Men's Health.

Growing Advertising Efforts Across Local TV Networks

In addition to expanding treatment capacity, Prestige Men's Health is significantly increasing its advertising reach. The clinic is adding five additional local broadcast TV stations to its media strategy, resulting in:

- 120 new TV ad spots airing across multiple networks

- Over 525,000 audience impressions
These expanded advertising efforts aim to educate the community about advanced ED treatments and encourage men to take charge of their health with proven, professional care.

"Awareness is key when it comes to men's health," said Dr. Schmidt. "By increasing our presence on local TV, we hope to reach more individuals who may not know that effective, non-invasive ED treatments are available."

A Note from the Owner
