

Endoscopes Market projected to surpass US$16.552 billion by 2030 at a CAGR of 7.39%

The endoscope market is anticipated to grow at a CAGR of 7.39% from US$11.589 billion in 2025 to US$16.552 billion by 2030.

NEW YORK, NY, UNITED STATES, February 20, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- According to a new study published by Knowledge Sourcing Intelligence, the endoscope market is projected to grow at a CAGR of 7.39% between 2025 and 2030 to reach US$16.552 billion by 2030.

An endoscope is a medical device that goes inside the body to capture pictures or videos of the internal organs and other structures during a process known as endoscopy. It helps in screening and diagnosing diseases for more effective treatment.

The rising prevalence of chronic disease, due to various factors such as rapid urbanization promoting a sedentary lifestyle along with environmental degradation. It is also driving due to increasing demand for minimally invasive procedures. The growing technological advancement in medical technology including endoscopes is leading the market growth. However, Endoscopes are expensive, and advanced endoscopes are too costly, increasing the overall cost of diagnosis or treatment. This leads to its accessibility being limited to many people, especially people from developing and underdeveloped countries, restricting its market growth potential.

The endoscope market is experiencing significant growth due to growing technological advancement and growing demand. The market is expected to witness increasing technological advancement to meet the growing demand and preference of consumers for minimally invasive procedures. For instance, In September 2024, Olympus Latin America launched the EVIS X1™ endoscopy system, which is Olympus' most advanced endoscopy system to date. It is launched for the Brazilian market. Also, In May 2024, PENTAX Medical, a division of HOYA Group, announced the FDA clearance of the DEC™ Duodenoscope (ED34-i10T2s) compatibility with the

The Global endoscopes market by type is segmented into single-use and reusable. During the forecast period, the market of single-use endoscopes is anticipated to grow as it eliminates the risk of cross-contamination.

The Global endoscopes market by device type is segmented into rigid endoscopes, flexible endoscopes, capsule endoscopes and assisted endoscopes. Rigid endoscopes are non-flexible endoscopes and is widely used where there is a need for straight endoscopes. Flexible endoscopes are bandable and is used where maneuverability is required. During the forecast period, flexible endoscopes are anticipated to continue holding the largest market share. However, assisted endoscopes with technology will have robust growth.

The Global endoscopes market, by exam type, is segmented into gastroscopy, colonoscopy, laparoscopy and others. Endoscopes are used for examining the oesophagus, stomach and duodenum. The gastroscopy segment will dominate the market and is anticipated to grow significantly due to growing cases of gastrointestinal disorders and also due to increasing technological advancement in gastroscopy endoscopes.

The Global Endoscopes market, by end-users, is segmented into Hospitals, Diagnostics Centers and Ambulatory Care Units. During the forecast period, hospitals will continue to hold the largest market share as there is increasing demand from hospitals for endoscopes for their use in treating various diseases whose cases are increasing such as cancer and gastrointestinal infections. However, there are increasing growth trajectories in the diagnostic centre end-users as well as ambulatory care units.

Based on geography, the North American region is expected to hold a noteworthy market share over the forecast period since there is a rising demand for minimally invasive procedures, body screening, therapeutic surgeries, and diagnosis. This is owing to the rising prevalence of chronic diseases, the growing geriatric population, and increasing awareness among people for body checkups. Asia-Pacific will be the fastest-growing region in the global endoscopes market due to the growing economies of Asia-Pacific countries such as India, China, Japan, etc., increasing demand for healthcare services, and government investment in healthcare services.

The report includes the major players operating in the Global Endoscopes market: Ambu A/S, OTU Medical, Medtronic, Coloplast Corp, PENTAX Medical, Richard Wolf Medical Instruments and KARL STORZ.

The market analytics report segments the Global Endoscopes market as follows:

- By Type
 - o Single-Use
