

FCC-Certified: AAVAA's Head-Mouse Expands to U.S. Market

AAVAA's Blink & Click Head-Mouse devices receive approval from the FCC, Expanding Hands-Free Accessibility to the U.S.

MONTREAL, QUEBEC, CANADA, March 3, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- AAVAA, a Canadian leader in assistive technology, has received FCC certification, for its Blink & Click Head Mouse devices, ensuring compliance with U.S. regulatory standards for electromagnetic compatibility and safety. AAVAA is now able to expand across the U.S. accessibility market and empower individuals with mobility and communication challenges.

AAVAA Devices offer full mouse functionality using only head movements and facial expressions. Users can right-click, drag-and-drop or double-click without the need for hands or voice controls, enabling accessible control of computers, smartphones, and smart home systems.

Achieving FCC certification is a significant milestone for AAVAA, and we are thrilled to bring our innovative, hands-free solutions to the U.S.”
