

Termite Damage Cost in Chesapeake, Virginia Hits an All Time High.

Termites have their way with homes in Chesapeake, Virginia.

CHESAPEAKE, VA, UNITED STATES, March 3, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The city of Chesapeake, Virginia has recently been hit with a concerning issue - termite damage. According to recent reports, termite damage in the area has reached an all-time high, causing homeowners to face thousands of dollars in repair costs. However, there is a solution that can save homeowners from this financial burden - a simple termite inspection by an Accredited BBB company.

Swarming Termite

The National Pest Management Association (NPMA) has declared Virginia as one of the top 10 states with the highest termite activity. With the warm and humid climate, the state is a prime location for termites to thrive, causing significant damage to homes and properties. The NPMA estimates that termites cause over $5 billion in property damage in the US every year, with Virginia being one of the most affected states.

Home owners in Chesapeake, Va have been hit hard in the last few years with regards to termite problems. Every home should have yearly inspections.”

George Pilkington

Experts warn that homeowners should not take termite infestations lightly as they can cause extensive damage to the structure of a home. Termites feed on wood, causing structural damage that can be costly to repair. In addition, termite damage is often not covered by homeowners' insurance, leaving homeowners to bear the financial burden of repairs.

To prevent termite damage, the NPMA recommends regular inspections by a licensed pest control professional. Early detection and treatment can save homeowners thousands of dollars in repair costs. Additionally, homeowners should also take preventive measures such as removing any wood debris around their property and fixing any moisture issues that may attract termites.

As the demand for termite control services rises, it is important for homeowners to carefully choose the company they trust to handle the issue. A quick search for "termite companies near me" may yield numerous results, but it is crucial to do thorough research before making a decision. The Better Business Bureau (BBB) recommends choosing a company that has been in business for at least 25 years, has no open complaints with the BBB, and has a minimum Google Review rating of 4.6 with 700 total reviews.
