Understanding the New Global Conflict: Cold War Two

The world is in the middle of Cold War Two®—a high-stakes conflict between the United States and China, along with their respective allies. In recent years, trade, technology, finance, and supply chain have become battlegrounds in this intensifying competition, pushing the global economy to the brink.

In Cold War Two, Schenker will provide historical perspectives, economic analysis, and futurist scenarios that help businesses, investors, and policymakers navigate this new era of geopolitical and economic conflict. With deep expertise in economic security, financial markets, energy, and national defense, Schenker will examine the forces driving the conflict and outline key risks and opportunities for the decade ahead and beyond.
